

iroda Portable Soldering

Altronics is proud to stock the Iroda® range of portable soldering products. We have now been Australia's leading distributor for this product line for over 25 years and Iroda® have consistently proven to provide the best quality portable butane soldering products on the market.

This year they have even branched out into battery powered soldering irons thanks to the latest advancements in lithium technology.

Every Iroda iron or blow torch offers:

- Wireless operation - no need to run mains leads to your work area.
- Trade quality construction with long lasting piezo ignition system.
- Long life tips with parts back up from Altronics for any spares you may need in the future.
- 1 year warranty with local parts and service by Altronics.
